Welcome MenCare Global Meeting 2019

On behalf of the MenCare Coordinators, it is our great pleasure to welcome you to MenCare Global Meeting 2019. We are grateful for the MenCare partners whose work continues to promote men's and boys' involvement as equitable, nonviolent caregivers and accelerates progress toward gender equality.

The MenCare Global Meeting 2019 program is designed to build on the recommendations highlighted in the State of the World's Fathers 2019 report, to develop a roadmap toward and identify a shared international advocacy agenda to achieve equality in caregiving and gender equality more broadly. The program will provide insights and strategies for achieving a new MenCare effort: the MenCare Commitment. This ambitious commitment aims to multiply the power of care by engaging 50 countries to commit to a national goal of men doing 50% of the unpaid care work by 2030.

For those attending in person, enjoy Rabat, and enjoy your time with each other and with all of us.

Aapta Garg, Promundo-US

Wessel van den Berg, Sonke Gender Justice

MenCare Global Meeting Sessions

Plenaries

The aim of plenary sessions is to showcase new and emerging findings from the field of caregiving. The presentations will inform the work MenCare members do to promote men's caregiving and gender equality in their settings.

MenCare Around the World

This is a space for MenCare partners to share their work in small participative groups.

Workshops

These workshop sessions are meant to break with traditional “conference style” presentations by promoting active dialogue and engagement among various MenCare partners.

Sessions marked with (📺) will be live-streamed. Watch these sessions live by visiting <https://men-care.org/mencarelive>

“Because I am a Father” Photo Exhibition

Shedding light on one of the key themes of the International Men and Gender Equality Survey - Middle East and North Africa (IMAGES MENA), and focusing on positive images of fatherhood, the “Because I am a Father” photo exhibition by UN Women MENA aims to portray the universality of fatherhood, the important role fathers play as role models and engaged caregivers, and the impact they can have on their families and society as a whole. Portraits from photographer Johan Bävman’s “Swedish Dads” photo exhibition will also be displayed. These photos examine fathers who have seized the opportunity of staying at home with their children for six months or more using Sweden’s parental allowance system and how their relationship with their partners and their children have changed as a result. The MenCare Global Photo Exhibition will also be featured.
